

Bring your products from 'Lab to Market' with Nutriconnect

Bring your products from 'Lab to Market' with us

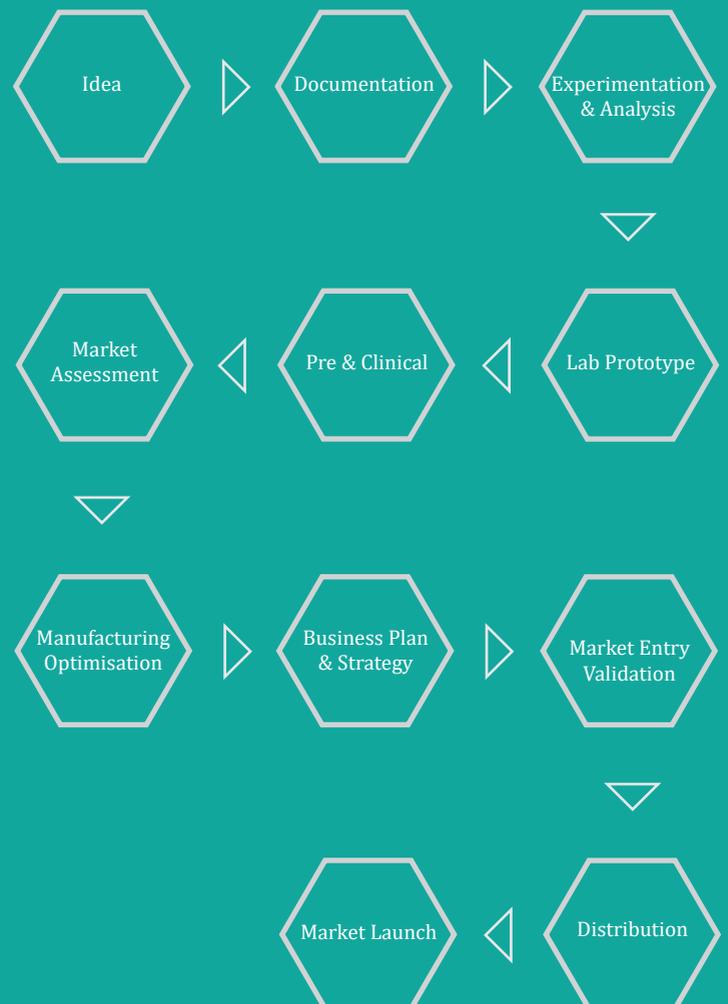

Why partner with us?

Nutriconnect provides a focal point of innovation by bringing together specialists with extensive experience in providing expert regulatory and scientific advice for companies. Based on our decade-long experience in entire chain of food-nutrition and natural medicine business, consultants of Nutriconnect are in the best position to assist organisations involved in this business.

We are simply the best in world's highest growth areas, SOUTH ASIA to create ideas, strategies and programs to help tell a better story that makes a difference.

Nutriconnect provide full professional support to bring your product from 'lab to market' depending on your needs

Competitive Advantages of Partnering With Us

Comprehensive scientific & regulatory expertise

- Write white papers, literature review, systematic review and monographs
- Interpret science to support marketing, public relations and advertising efforts
- Clinical & pre-clinical study placement and monitoring
- Product registration and technical support

Demonstrated track record

Over the last 8 years Nutriconnect completed successfully many projects globally with world leading FMCG, FMHG & natural/complementary medicine companies, particularly in entering South Asian market with evidence-based products through healthcare professional and OTC channels.

Strategic partnership with TGA- & USFDA-approved GMP manufacturing facility

We partner with TGA- & USFDA-approved manufacturing facilities in India for manufacturing your products at highest quality with affordable price

International, national & local network

Nutriconnect provides an expert platform for knowledge development using open innovation model using our extensive and well-nourished global networking system.

Strategic partnership with leading market intelligence groups for new market entry

We are partnering with leading local market intelligence companies to provide:

- Country entry strategy through selection of strategic partner
- Business plan with estimations on revenue, costs and strategic inputs
- Granular Pilot launch plan at city or regional level

Nutricconnect is equipped to help clients achieve success in a fast-paced, challenging South Asian & Australasian market

Nutricconnect can help you explore the market and placement of your products into the marketplace with our team of local professionals

Based in Sydney, Australia, working globally

Nutricconnect is a unique platform where talented, seasoned, and motivated professionals coming together from around the world to deliver best outcomes

M: (+61) 449154917

E: dghosh@optusnet.com.au

E: dilipghosh@nutricconnect.com.au

www.nutricconnect.com.au